

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

FROM

ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

ENGLAND.

Anticipated Election Disturbances.

LONDON, Nov. 12, 1868.
The Parliamentary elections commencing to-morrow. Most extensive measures of precaution against disturbances at the polls have been taken by the police authorities. Troops have been sent to Blackburn, an important borough in the county of Lancaster, where serious trouble is feared.

The New Bishops for Canterbury and York.

LONDON, Nov. 12, 1868.
It is announced that Rev. William Thomson, D. D., now Archbishop of York, succeeds the late Rev. Charles Longley as Archbishop of Canterbury; and that Rev. Samuel Wilberforce, D. D., now Bishop of Oxford, succeeds to the vacant See at York.

Weekly Statement of the Bank of England.

LONDON, Nov. 12, 1868.
The official report of the Bank of England, made public to-day, shows that the amount of specie in vault has decreased £119,000 during the week.

AUSTRIA.

New Military Regulations—Further Explanation of the Premier's Speech.

VIENNA, Nov. 12, 1868.
The Reichsrath has passed the bill prescribing new regulations for the army of reserve and for soldiers of three years' service.

Before the passage of the bill Baron von Beust carefully explained his former speech so as to remove all cause for anxiety.

RUSSIA.

Designs of the International Military Commission.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12, 1868.
The International Military Commission has agreed to prohibit the use in time of war of all explosive projectiles weighing less than 400 grammes.

The Commission in Russia.
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12, 1868.
An imperial ukase fixes the time of making the conscription in January. Four persons out of every thousand are to be drawn to complete the effective force of the army and navy.

MEXICO.

Prominent Personalities on Trial Before Congress—Accusations Against Romero.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 12, 1868.
The following news has been received from Mexico:—

The national Congress is about to try several important persons, among whom are the following:—

Señor Huerta, member of Congress, who is accused of being implicated in the conspiracy of Michoacán; General Mejía, Secretary of War, for expending money without authority of Congress, and Governor Monteverde, of Sonora, for violation of the constitution.

Congressman Zambrano has accused Señor Romero, late Minister to Washington, of acts contrary to the laws of Congress. General Escobedo is actively engaged in prosecuting operations against the insurgents in Toluca.

Troops have been dispatched against the bandits in the state of Puebla.

General Canales, the alleged assassin of General Pantoja, upon being brought before a civil court, to answer the charge against him, demanded a military trial. After arguments on both sides the court decided in favor of the military trial.

Noriega, at the head of a revolutionary band, was in the neighborhood of Tampico.

The arrest of the Secretary of State of Vera Cruz was made on the ground that he had violated the laws in accepting a civil office while holding a position in the army.

CUBA.

Certain Ports of the Insurgent District Closed—Sugar Market—Exchange.

HAVANA, Nov. 12, 1868.
Captain General Lermundi has issued a proclamation closing for exports and imports all ports in the Eastern department of Cuba where no Custom Houses have been established.

In sugar the market is quiet and prices are about: No. 12 Dutch standard is quoted at 8 1/2 a 5 1/2 cents per arroba.

Exchange—Paris, 1 1/2 a 2 per cent premium; United States, sixty days' sight, in currency, 24 a 1 per cent discount; in gold, sixty days' sight, 4 1/2 a 5 per cent premium.

THE NEW DOMINION.

The Commercial Bank of St. John, N. B.

ST. JOHN, Nov. 12, 1868.
There is a better feeling regarding the Commercial Bank. The bank is paying notes to depositors. Their notes are current at eighty-five to ninety cents per dollar.

The Anti-Confederate Feeling in Nova Scotia.

HALIFAX, Nov. 12, 1868.
Hon. J. Howe's letter continues to excite much attention. The members of the Executive Council held a meeting to consider the letter, and to-day publish the minutes of the Council.

Contradicting some of Mr. Howe's statements, it is admitted that Mr. Howe, at the recent convention, suggested, as a mode of getting free from the Canadian confederation, that the members of both Parliaments should declare independence, and that the insurrectionary movement; but a proposal so absurd only provokes a general smile. They deny that Mr. Howe proposed that the Executive Council should tender the resignation, and inform General Boyle that they could not hold office under him while he held a commission from Lord Monck, and not from the Queen.

The members of the Nova Scotia Legislature and Dominion Parliament should appeal to the country and pile up such a majority as could not be misinterpreted as a vote of confidence in the Government. They protest against aspersions upon the character and motives of the Government, and will not yield to Mr. Howe in the determination to maintain their honor and integrity untarnished.

Marine Disaster—New Railroad Project—Accidental Death.

TORONTO, Nov. 12, 1868.
The schooner W. B. Allen, laden with wheat for Oswego, went ashore on the island last night and is leaking badly.

The City Council passed a law granting $400,000 to build a narrow gauge railway.

A soldier named Lamo and down on the railway track, near the barracks, drunk last evening, and was run over by a train and cut in two.

TENNESSEE.

Excitement in the State Senate—Attempts to Oust the Speaker on Charges of Disloyalty—Railroad Legislation.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 12, 1868.
Senator Cole, of Hamilton, introduced a preamble and resolution in the Legislature to-day to the effect that,

Whereas D. W. G. Senter, the Speaker of the Senate, was a member of the Confederate Legislature of Tennessee under John H. Rains, has favored many acts oppressive to Union people, and has been clearly guilty of conspiracy and treason against the government; that whereas he was clearly ineligible to office under the third section of the fourteenth article of amendment to the constitution, all acts which he has signed as Speaker of the Senate are illegal, and therefore the Speaker's chair should be declared vacant, and the Senate to proceed at once to the election of a new presiding officer.

The document created a great deal of excitement in the Legislature, as it was entirely unexpected. It lies over for action to-morrow, when a stormy time is anticipated.

The bill passed the Senate on the first reading to-day providing for the sale of the Nashville and Northwestern, Edgemoor and Kentucky, Memphis, Nashville and Louisville, and Manchester and McMinnville Railroads. The bill empowers the Comptroller of the Treasury and the Secretary of State, as Commissioners, to sell the same.

Shipments of Arms from New York.
It appears that the arms consigned to L. Heiman were bought by Chesman Brothers, of New York, on consignment, and sent to him to be sold. Heiman refused to have the arms sent to him, and they were stored subject to the order of the shippers.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

General McCallahan Chosen Regent of the University of California—The Late Indian Massacre at La Paz.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12, 1868.
The Board of Regents have elected General George R. McCallahan President of the University of California.

Late Arizona advises state that numerous Indian outrages had been committed.

The Arizona Legislature will convene on the 31st of December.

THE ELECTION.

Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 12, 1868.

The full official vote of Pennsylvania is as follows:—

Grant..... 342,339
Seymour..... 318,742
Grant's majority..... 23,597

Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 12, 1868.

The vote of this State stands, with one parish incomplete—Grant, 24,632; Seymour, 18,142. The democratic majority is 55,190. The official count will vary from this but little.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11, 1868.

Mr. Johnson, democrat, is elected to Congress from the Northern district by a small majority.

Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12, 1868.

Seymour carries Oregon by about 230 majority.

The Election in Charleston to be Contested.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 12, 1868.
The citizens' party will contest the election for Mayor and Aldermen on the ground that the election was carried by fraud and intimidation.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Excitement in Raleigh Over the Arrival of Arms for the Local Militia—Disturbances Fanned—Meeting of the Legislature.

RALEIGH, Nov. 12, 1868.
Quite an excitement was occasioned yesterday evening over the passage through the streets here of a wagon train laden with boxed small arms. As they were safely deposited at the State Arsenal it was naturally concluded they were intended for the local militia; but after the most peaceful election that ever occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

Democratic allies, that this will inaugurate a state of anarchy akin to that of Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, which they exceedingly deplore, as the late exciting contest shows clearly there is no reason to believe that the State is in a better condition than it was before the late election. The Governor is peaceably disposed towards each other, and the election of General Grant has certainly established a friendly feeling between the two parties.

On the other hand, the friends of Governor Holden contend that as long as the existing State government is denounced as a usurpation, and the State is in a state of anarchy, it is only safe to guard against such a rebellion as that which occurred in the State some feeling and indignation resulted from the arrival of the arms.

RAIDS OF THE BOND AND BANK ROBBERIES.

BANK ROBBERY IN BROOKLYN.

Nine Thousand Dollars Stolen.
A robbery was committed on Tuesday last at the Mechanics' Bank, corner of Montague and Court streets, which indicates the utmost carelessness on the part of the trustees. It appears that the cashier of the bank had gone to New York on the day in question, and consequently but two clerks were left to attend to the business of the bank. About one o'clock in the afternoon a man of genteel appearance stepped in and inquired at the teller's desk whether the bank had any United States bonds for sale. He was told that it had not, and he was directed to a broker's office. He took his departure, and about half past one returned and inquired about negotiating a bill of exchange, and was again referred to the broker's office. He then returned to the counter of the bank two other men entered, one of whom desired to purchase some revenue stamps, which were kept in the lower end of the counter and which took one of the clerks of the institution to that part of the office. While this man was engaged the clerk in conversation in regard to the various kinds of stamps the second man came up and he was talking to the clerk at the teller's desk. The person who first entered the place retained his position in the bank, and the other two men came up and he was talking to the clerk at the teller's desk. The person who first entered the place retained his position in the bank, and the other two men came up and he was talking to the clerk at the teller's desk.

The person who first entered the place retained his position in the bank, and the other two men came up and he was talking to the clerk at the teller's desk. The person who first entered the place retained his position in the bank, and the other two men came up and he was talking to the clerk at the teller's desk.

The person who first entered the place retained his position in the bank, and the other two men came up and he was talking to the clerk at the teller's desk. The person who first entered the place retained his position in the bank, and the other two men came up and he was talking to the clerk at the teller's desk.

THE ROYAL INSURANCE COMPANY.

Griffin Alleged Principal in the Ashford—Proceeds of the Plunder—Proceeds of Another Robbery Discovered—$100,000 Bail Required.

THE trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.

The trouble in which James Griffin, alias Stephens, alias Williams, one of the reputed Royal bond robbers, is involved, seems to be accumulating, as the property found in his possession when arrested by Captain Jordan and officer Dunn, of the Sixth precinct—already reported in the HERALD—has been identified by Mr. George S. Puffer, residing at No. 13 Livingston street, Brooklyn, who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin, and who has been a witness from the time of the capture of Griffin.